

A different career perspective for primary care physicians

Authors: Dr. Marijan Gjukić*, Petra Reinbacher

Keywords: Opinion HUB, primary care above-standard, transdisciplinary coordination, sustainable remote relationships

*Private Institute for Health Management Ltd., , Vienna, Austria Second Opinion Ltd., Vienna, Austria

DESIGN - Health's business dimension, live and online

Opinion HUB, a business center of Second Opinion Ltd. with its headquarters in Vienna, integrates the career development activities of primary care physicians both on-site and online, in an international context.

Opinion HUB serves as the intersection, coordination point, and business support hub for experts from different remote locations.

Through innovative communication and advisory settings, it enables a new professional role that goes beyond traditional models.

INTERACTIONS - Tomorrow's services, today

A mix of diverse business formats enables flexible cooperation across national and linguistic borders.

Partners, contributors, and members benefit from exclusive access to premium content and activities — combined with a strong commitment to research and innovation.

ATMOSPHERE - International discretion

Transdisciplinary coordination goes beyond interdisciplinary solutions.

User needs are addressed based on two key criteria: the patient's workplace and the place where their family lives.

Interactions among different professionals and service providers occur regardless of geographic or linguistic barriers.

Collaboration takes place without intruding on the user's privacy, fostering trust and sustainable remote relationships.

FAMILY-CENTERED COMMUNICATION A game changer in resource management

Let's work together to reshape family-centred communication in order to optimize resources: time, energy, and finances!

TOOLS - Combining innovators and influencers

A different career perspective without leaving your family—or even your country?

Recognizing the needs of contemporary patients—whose expectations exceed standard services—leads to the development of advanced service formats and new financing models.

OpinioNet is an innovation in communication within families, and between families, institutions, and employers.

Using the OpinioNet platform ensures competitiveness in the global market by understanding inequalities in health and social care across countries.

Numerous legal options exist: diversifying income by expanding services, consulting, educating, writing, certifying, building strategic partnerships and networks, and internationalization.

KEY BENEFITS

Impact on B2B and B2G communication

Communication skills for the international market

Changes of B2C and G2C communication

Impact on workforce migration

Research and development

Creating strategic alliances

